Soviet-Germany Talks Near End

Outlook For Agreement Sour

MOSCOW, Sept. 11 (AP)—A West German government spokesman predicted today Soviet-German negotiations here will end Tuesday night and the Germans will go home Wednesday. Outlook for any agreement appeared sour.

The end of the talks which began Friday appeared in sight as West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer entertained Soviet bigwigs at luncheon in the luxurious dacha (villa) in a wooded area 12 miles from Moscow. The villa was assigned to Adenauer by his Russian hosts.

Kilgore Accuses Ike Of Ducking McCarran Issue

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11 (AP)—Sen. Kilgore (D-W.Va.) declared today the Eisenhower Administration "has ducked every invitation" to tell Congress how it stands on proposed changes in the controversial McCarran-Walter Immigration Act.

Kilgore, chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee and its Immigration subcommittee, said the administration "has failed to come to grips with this vital issue and formulate a policy."

Since last April, he said, efforts have been made to get Secretary of State Dulles and other top policy spokesmen to testify before his subcommittee. "But," the senator added, "the administration has failed to cooperate."

Kilgore recalled that President Eisenhower, in his 1952 election campaign, criticized the McCarran-Walter Act but said so far the President has not submitted a single specific recommendation for changing it.

The act, the nation's basic immigration and naturalization law, was passed in 1952 over former President Truman's veto. It has been a continuing source of conflict.

Eisenhower, among others, has said the law contains unjust and discriminatory provisions. Yesterday one of its sponsors, Rep. Walter (D-Pa.), reviewed immigration figures for the last three years and said qualified aliens are not being kept out of the United States.

Walter said the 858,536 aliens listed in preliminary Justice Department reports as having been admitted in the year ended last June 30 represented a 14 per cent increase over the previous year. And 1954, he said, recorded an increase of 22 per cent over 1953.

This trend, Walter insisted, demonstrates that the 1952 legislation permits the United States "to keep pace with the growing volume of international exchange of goods and persons."

He said it also refutes "persistent propaganda" against the act.

European Mormon Temple Dedicated

ZOLLIKOFEN, Switzerland, Sept. 11 (AP)—The first Mormon temple on the European continent was solemnly dedicated here today.

David O. McKay, president of the Church of the Latter-Day Saints; Ezra Taft Benson, U.S. secretary of agriculture, and Sen. Wallace Bennett of Utah were among the 1,500 members of the Mormon Church from the United States and many European countries who took part in the ceremony.

Until today, the 45,000 Mormons in Europe had only prayer houses in a number of cities, but no consecrated temple.

Government Map To Show Known Uranium Deposits

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11 (AP)—Publication of a government map showing known uranium deposits of the United States was announced today.

Secretary of the Interior McKay said the Geological Survey prepared the map on behalf of the Atomic Energy Commission.

Plotted on the map are locations of the most important uranium deposits, based on information gained from published and unpublished reports of the AEC, its contractors, and the Geological Survey. Included are discoveries by individuals, corporations and government agencies.

Desegregation Protested

School officials in Carroll County await the decision of parents to see if children will be kept from classes again today in the Maryland community of Union Bridge after the first demonstration of the new school term against desegregation was staged Friday when parents took their children from the elementary-high school following admission of seven Negro pupils to elementary grades which touched off the protest.

Agreement Set By Faure For Moroccan Peace

PARIS, Sept. 11 (AP)—Premier Edgar Faure and his "Committee of Five" tonight endorsed an agreement with Mohammed Ben Youssef, pro-Nationalist former Sultan, intended to end the Moroccan crisis. The agreement is to be submitted to a full Cabinet meeting.

Pierre July, minister for Tunisian and Moroccan affairs, made this announcement to newsmen after a three-hour session which heard a full report from Gen. Georges Catroux on his discussions last week with the exiled former Sultan on Madagascar.

At the same time the French government appealed to Frenchmen and Moroccans to follow the counsels of a "message from a high authority," to be made public soon.

July did not disclose who would issue this message, but he hinted it will be coming from Youssef and possibly from the present Sultan, Mohammed Ben Moulay Arafat, as well.

Shortly before the ministers met, a group of 400 airforce reservists called up for duty in North Africa battled airforce police at the Lyon railroad station in Paris and refused to board a train which would take them to a port of embarkation.

They were taken from the station in army trucks under armed guard to the Villacoublay air base, near Versailles.

July was speaking on behalf of himself, Premier Faure, Justice Minister Robert Schuman, Foreign Minister Antoine Pinay and Defense Minister Gen. Pierre Koenig, who together make up the "Committee of Five."

July said all five ministers were greatly satisfied by the fact that Youssef, "mindful of the interests of the Moroccan people, has rallied to the plan drafted by France and presented to him by Catroux."

It aims, he said, at a fully representative Moroccan government which can lead Morocco progressively, in an understanding with France, to the status of a modern and democratic state.

Gaston Palewski, a right-wing member of the Cabinet and follower of Gen. Charles de Gaulle, hinted the plan may run into political fire at tomorrow's Cabinet session. He implied there were several points with which he did not agree.

Adolph Hitler Will Be Declared Dead This Month

BERCHTESGADEN, Germany, Sept. 11 (AP)—Adolf Hitler will be declared officially dead this month. After a three-year investigation, court sources said, the Berchtesgaden Magistrates' Court will hand out a death certificate saying Hitler committed suicide in his Berlin Reichschancellery bunker April 30, 1945.

The inquiry involved the questioning of scores of witnesses, including a dentist who repaired Hitler's false teeth.

Historically, Hitler's suicide has been assumed an established fact but German authorities considered him alive so long as no death certificate existed. Only a few years ago, the Munich police administration certified to an inquiring lawyer that Hitler was still officially considered a resident of Munich.

Costly N. Y. Dock Strike Called Off

NEW YORK, Sept. 11 (AP)—The International Longshoremen's Assn. tonight ended a five-day strike which had cost the huge port of New York a million dollars a day.

Patrick (Packy) Connolly, I.L.A. executive vice president, announced the end of the walkout. Gov. Averell Harriman earlier had called on the strikers to end the paralyzing tieup.

The strike was in protest against the Waterfront Commission, a New York-New Jersey agency set up to police the miles of waterfront and end alleged hiring abuses.

The independent union, thrown out of the AFL two years ago on grounds it was gangster dominated, claimed the commission was unduly harsh in interpreting the rules, had run wild with its subpoena power, and was "interfering" in the union's collective bargaining efforts.

A state official, labor relations consultant Marshall Miller, was instrumental in ending the costly work stoppage, which in effect closed down the entire port.

Miller attended an emergency meeting of the union's Atlantic District Executive Council.

Sharon Ritchie Says: Be Cool, Calm, Collected And Win Miss America Title

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Sept. 11 (AP)—Sharon Kay Ritchie, an almond-eyed red-haired beauty, said today the girl who keeps cool, calm and collected is the girl who wins the Miss America crown.

"There's no use getting fussed," she quietly told newsmen. "If you look for the best, you'll receive the best. If you think success, then success will come to you."

Sharon, 18-year-old Denver coed who represented Colorado in the pageant, was crowned Miss America 1956 last night after competing with 48 other beauties for the title.

The shapely Colorado Woman's College sophomore said she had wanted to win the Miss America title since the age of 8.

Mr. and Mrs. Forrest A. Ritchie of Grand Island, Neb., her happy parents, were on hand to witness their daughter's coronation.

The Ritchies have a family of beauty queens. Their other daughter, Mrs. Merle Strevor of Denver, was second runner-up in the Miss United States competition held in California this year as part of the Miss Universe contest.

Press China For Data On Missing GIs

U. S. Thinks Many May Be Prisoners; On Geneva Agenda

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11 (AP)—The United States now plans to press the Peiping regime for word on several hundred American soldiers listed as missing in the Korean War, some of whom may be in Chinese Communist hands.

Information on these men and demands for release of any proved to be in Red China compose one of the topics which authorities here believe will certainly be discussed in the second round of talks at Geneva.

Ambassadors U. Alex Johnson for the United States and Wang Ping-nan for Red China concluded their first task in the Geneva negotiations yesterday. They announced that American civilians in China and Chinese in this country had the right to return to their homelands.

A spokesman said Washington expects all 41 American civilians known to be behind the Bamboo Curtain to be freed promptly, including those in jail. Evidence that the Chinese may fulfill their pledge quickly came in a Peiping broadcast today, indicating that 10 Americans listed by the Communists yesterday for early release are probably already out of prison and on their way to the Hong Kong border.

The Geneva agreement provided that the British Embassy in Peiping could assist Americans to get out and that the Indian Embassy here could assist Chinese who may feel they need help.

Indian Ambassador G. L. Mehta said today he is awaiting instructions from his government. In addition to the embassy here, India has consulates in New York and San Francisco where Chinese could contact Indian diplomats.

The first phase of the Geneva talks was limited by agreement to the question of allowing civilians to return home. The second phase will deal with almost any problem either government wants to bring up.

These "other matters" are expected to include many things which Red China seeks, such as a lowering of trade barriers and membership in the United Nations.

So long as any of the American civilians remain in Red China, the United States would be in position of arguing with an adversary which holds hostages. There, authorities made clear that this country would proceed cautiously in the second round of negotiations, keeping careful watch on the speed with which Americans are set free to come home.

Wife Survives Suicide Pact

STREATOR, Ill., Sept. 11 (AP)—A Geneva, Ill., woman, survivor of what she said was a suicide pact with her husband, told LaSalle County authorities today demands of hoodlum extortionists drove them to the attempt to end their lives together.

The woman, Mrs. Ruth Craine, 49, told her story to State's Atty. Harlan Warren after her husband, Leon, 52, was found dead last night in their car at Indian Acres, an amusement park north of Streator.

Ironically, Warren said, the husband was not asphyxiated by exhaust fumes piped into the interior of the car. An autopsy showed, Warren said, Craine died of heart disease.

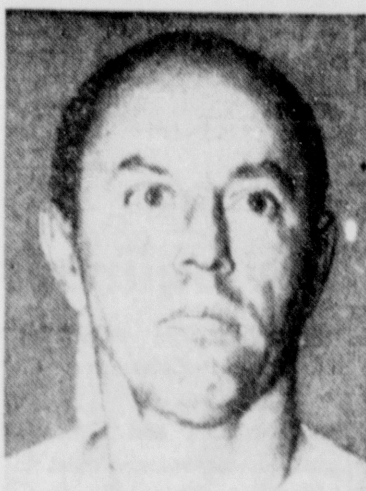

Mrs. Craine survived because the car engine quit running, although the ignition key was still on, she said, when she regained consciousness.

Warren said Mrs. Craine told of being threatened by persons whose names she did not know since she and her husband were charged with arson following the burning of their resort on Lake Bruce near Kewanee, Ind. She said she and her husband have been free on $2,500 bonds each awaiting trial in October on charges brought by a fire marshal in connection with the resort blaze in July.

At their last contact with the extortionists, in Springfield, Ill., on Sept. 4, she told Warren, the Craines were told they must raise $15,000 or die. But they were told, she said, if they raised the money the arson case "would be fixed."

NEW DELHI, India, Sept. 11 (AP)—Malcolm MacDonald, Britain's new high commissioner in India, arrived here by plane tonight to take up his post.

Progress Noted In Economy Of World Report

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11 (AP)—The International Monetary Fund today reported to the free world's economic leadership that "further considerable progress" was made through mid-1955 toward striking the shackles of trade and exchange restraints from international commerce.

However, the rather optimistic tone of the fund's 10th annual report to its governors—the treasury and central bank chiefs of the fund's 58 member nations—may not be fully echoed in the five-day meeting of the governors beginning tomorrow at Istanbul, Turkey.

The fund's annual report was prepared for the governor's meeting. The fund governors are in nearly all cases the same as the governors of the World Bank, twin international finance institution to the fund, also opening its annual meeting at Istanbul Monday.

Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey was enroute to Turkey today as U.S. bank and fund governor. The fund's report was released here in advance of the meeting.

Informed quarters here said they expected the bank and fund meeting to show that in many respects the free world is further than a year earlier from the stability which must underlie general dismantling of money and trade barriers put up to shelter war-weakened economies.

The bank and the fund were brought into being, as autonomous parts of the United Nations, after World War II to help patch up war damage and to break down war (and depression) born trade and exchange restrictions. The bank was the patchup agency, making loans to member countries to restore ports, transportation and water systems, and all kinds of vital industrial links. It has now moved on, into the field of general developmental loans, with emphasis on helping less developed nations forward.

Tokyo Housewives Remember U.S. Aid

TOKYO, Monday, Sept. 12 (AP)—A group of Tokyo housewives who remembered U.S. aid in the 1923 Japan earthquake didn't let their low incomes affect their gratitude. They sold wooden jewelry and yesterday turned in the 1,460 yen proceeds—$4.66—as a contribution for the flood-battered eastern United States.

Wayward Research Balloon Shot Down By U. S. Planes

FOWLER, Ind., Sept. 11 (AP)—A wayward Air Force research balloon launched five days ago at Denver was shot down today over northwestern Indiana and two air men who parachuted to earth beside the falling bag said "electrical impulse guns" were used to bring it down.

The chutists, Airmen 2.C. Donald R. Smith and Dell Cring, both of Donaldson Air Force Base, Greenville, S. C., said the eastward course of the balloon had been traced by radio signals it transmitted. They indicated an automatic release which should have deflated the balloon after it had reached an elevation of approximately 80,000 feet had failed to function.

Neither Smith nor Cring would speak further about the "electrical impulse guns," pending the arrival at the scene of Air Force officers.

10 American Civilians Due For Release

No Disclosure When Freedom Coming; All Convicted Of Crimes

LONDON, Sept. 11 (AP)—Red China, issuing "report cards" on the 10 American civilians whose speedy release was promised yesterday, said today they were convicted of crimes ranging from spreading reactionary propaganda to spying.

A Peiping radio broadcast said two women among the 10, Presbyterian missionaries at leper colonies, were convicted of sabotage. The broadcast said the conduct of all 10 had been "fairly good." It declared Chinese courts and administrative officials had decided to release the Americans and send them out of China "in advance of the expiration of their (prison) terms."

But there was still no disclosure as to exactly when the Americans would pass through the Bamboo Curtain into the British crown colony of Hong Kong. The broadcast indicated the 10 may have been released already from their places of detention and now may be on their way to freedom.

No Sign Of Americans

At Hong Kong, British colonial border guards said there was no sign of the Americans and closed the gates to traffic from Red China for the night. No ships from China entered Hong Kong harbor today.

A spokesman for the U. S. consulate there said he could hazard no guess as to when the Americans would arrive. At the time their release was decided, three were believed to be in Peiping, one in Chungking, one in Shanghai, three in Foochow, and two in Canton. All 10 are expected to cross the border at the same time. This would mean they would meet at an assembling point, probably Canton, and travel to Hong Kong by train.

The 10 are in addition to 12 American civilians who the Chinese Reds announced last Tuesday have no charges against them and can leave China when they choose. Beyond yesterday's joint Geneva announcement that machinery has been set up so all Americans in China may "expeditiously exercise their right" to go home, there has been no specific announcement on the release of 19 other U. S. civilians detained by the Reds. The Chinese already have freed 15 American airmen they had held since the Korean War.

Although neither American nor Chinese delegations would even guess at a release date for the 19, the U. S. State Department in Washington said yesterday it expected them to gain freedom promptly.

British Asked To Help

The joint announcement said Britain would be asked to help iron out any difficulties in expediting the departure of Americans who want to leave China, while India will be asked to do the same job for Chinese students who want to quit the United States.

Informed sources at United Nations headquarters in New York said the agreement to have Indian consulates in the United States handling claims of Chinese students seeking repatriation stemmed directly from talks which India's V. K. Krishna Menon had in Geneva when the U. S.-Red China conference opened. Menon is Prime Minister Nehru's top adviser on foreign relations.

Miss Pisaneschi was president of the Western Conference of the CSMC and was class president in her freshman and senior years and secretary of her class in her junior and sophomore years.

She received a four-year scholarship to Sacred Heart College for obtaining the highest scholastic average during her four years at St. Mary's.

Miss Pisaneschi, secretary of the St. Mary's CYO, was organist for the high school choir and the adult choir for two years. She worked as a laboratory technician at Memorial Hospital for about one and one-half years while attending high school.

The two young women entering the teaching order will be candidates until January when they will enter the novitiate.

Nation's Churches Abandon Aloofness, Carry Christian Message To Outsiders

By GEORGE W. CORNELL

NEW YORK, Sept. 11 (AP)—Churches are going out on the town.

Solemn institutions, which used to keep reverently aloof, today are roving all around to win friends and influence people.

"The churches are doing more now than they have in generations to carry the Christian message to those outside the church," said the Rev. Berlyn N. Farris, head of the National Council of Churches' Evangelism Department.

Instead of voicing their faith only behind closed church doors, once-reticent congregations are getting out and talking up the message in private homes and the marketplace.

"We must abandon the old passive method of waiting for inquirers to come to us, and instead, must go to them," said the Rev. John A. O'Brien, Catholic scholar who leads a movement for members to draw others to church.

The rise of such person-to-person crusading is one of the major developments in recent Christian history in America. It has swept most of Protestantism in the last decade, and is spreading among Catholic dioceses.

Most familiar label for the new technique is: "visitation evangelism."

It means simply for church members, singly or in pairs, to go out and ring doorbells, calling on their friends and neighbors to try to interest them in coming to church. Untold numbers of Christians are doing it.

Although churches also have taken to broadcasting, advertising and special missions on campuses, in industrial plants and elsewhere to reach the unchurched, the main new tool is "visitation evangelism."

One thing that makes the private approach work so well is its informality. When a friend or fellow worker calls to suggest you go to church with him, the bid seems to have a special pull.

"It's the most valuable evange-

Martin Luther Film Is Banned By Brazil

NEW YORK, Sept. 11 (AP)—"Martin Luther," the church-sponsored motion picture on the leader of the Protestant Reformation, has been banned in predominantly Roman Catholic Brazil, it has been disclosed.

Robert E. A. Lee, head of Lutheran Church Productions, Inc., said the Brazilian government's censorship service refused a license for showing the film in theaters on grounds it would be "offensive to community or religion."

He reported to the church production board that the movie, the only church-backed film ever to win awards in competition in Hollywood, has been seen by about 20 million Americans in showings in this country.

The picture previously was banned in the Philippines, Peru, Egypt and Quebec.

Religious aid that has been developed in its ability to reach people," the Rev. Mr. Farris said.

Boy Sent Ike's Thanks For Flood Relief Donation

DENVER, Sept. 11 (AP)—There's a "Thank you very much" note on the way to a 15-year-old Brooklyn, N.Y., youngster who packed his toy bank containing $4.30 off to President Eisenhower as a flood relief contribution.

And the President wants the young fellow, Miles David Storfer, to know that the Red Cross undoubtedly will supply the additional $5.70 it will take to get the bank open.

It's one of those cash register types that stays tight shut until it has gobbled up $10.

The President's thanks were expressed in a note from Mrs. Ann Whitman, Eisenhower's personal secretary.

Miles explained in his letter to the President that he was at a summer camp in the general flood area when the disaster hit. The camp is at Honesdale, Pa. "God spared our camp," the boy wrote, "but others were not so fortunate."

It's obvious why hurricanes are given feminine names. A hurricane has the privilege of changing its mind.

Davy Crockett Fad Brings Revival Of Sharpshooting

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11 (AP)—The Davy Crockett fad not only has brought joy and fiscal excitement to the makers of coonskin caps. It even has been a rifle shot in the arm for Uncle Sam.

One little-known activity of this sprawling government is its program for teaching civilians, and especially youngsters, how to shoot.

It has been going on more or less quietly—that is, if you overlook the noise of a few rifle shots—since it was set up by Congress in 1903. And then, here came Davy Crockett, king of the wild frontier.

"Our business is mushrooming," said Lt. Col. Ellis Lea, an assistant to the Army's director of Civilian Marksmanship. "I'd have to say Davy Crockett has been a big help."

Lea has been pleased to note that even around the nation's capital, scarcely ever confused with frontierland any more, youngsters who apparently are anxious to rush off and save the Alamo have been clamoring to learn how to shoot.

Nationally the story is the same, with 55,000 youngsters of from 12 to 19 years of age in the learners' clubs in 1951, and 70,000 banging away now.

Under the government program, each club must be affiliated with the National Rifle Assn., must have at least 10 youngsters who wish to learn, and must have a responsible adult ready to act as instructor.

The help given each club varies according to its need. But, in general, it can be said if all conditions are met, each youngster will be supplied with enough government ammunition to learn the fundamentals of shooting.

But this nation once prided itself on its sharpshooters. What has happened?

Lea thinks the growth of our population has made poor shooting almost inevitable. "Give a kid a big enough space to practice with a rifle now," Lea said, "and he's likely to bring down a cow."

During a hitch at Ft. Ord, Calif., Lea was in charge of teaching recruits how to shoot. He figures that not one in six had the slightest idea of what it was all about.

"We had to scratch gravel, I tell you," he said.

Lea regrets that the emphasis on bombs and newfangled weapons has caused many persons to conclude that old-fashioned sharpshooting isn't so important any more.

"The fellow who knows how to handle a rifle will handle the new weapons better, too," he said. "And I don't want to disparage the Air Force, but after they move on, somebody else has to move in. The foot soldier is as important as ever."

One bright spot in the gunnery picture: Lea thinks that for all his bragging, Crockett couldn't compare with the shooters of today. With their improved guns, Lea said, they would lick Crockett and his favorite rifle every time.

Fictional Character Telephones Creator

LONDON, Sept. 11 (AP)—S. J. Perelman, the American humorist, has created hundreds of fictional characters. His latest one has come to life.

"I had just finished writing a part for Noel Coward in a new film," said Perelman, "and I called this character Roland Smythe-Piggott."

"Then, Mr. Smythe-Piggott called me." The voice on the telephone reported a Smythe-Piggott didn't want his name connected with any character in film.

The following day there was another telephone call, and then one from lawyers.

"It was pure coincidence that I lit upon this name," said the writer. "But we quickly eliminated it."

The character was changed to Roland Hesketh-Baggott.

"Coward thought this one up," said Perelman, "and up to now we've had no complaints."

Mary Higgins, Nationwide Insurance policyholder, writes Murray D. Lincoln, Nationwide president, about the companies' recent change of name. Mr. Lincoln's answer is printed below.

We'll always love you, Mary Higgins
...we've changed our name, not our heart

Dear Mary Higgins:

I have your nice letter, and I'm answering it through the newspaper because a number of other people have also written me, raising the same point you do about our recent name change.

So say:

"Charlie Hackett, our agent, tells me that Farm Bureau Insurance is changing its name to Nationwide Insurance. It's nice to know you're getting big and successful. But I do hope you won't forget about people like us who've stayed with you for years because we like your neighborly way of doing business."

I can understand your being concerned about losing the neighborly touch that has made Farm Bureau Insurance such a nice company to do business with.

You might look at it this way, Mary Higgins. Once upon a time you changed your name, too. That was the day you got married, remember?

But at heart you didn't change, did you? What happened was that you went into partnership with someone like yourself to build a fuller, richer life for both of you—and later on for your children.

Actually, Mary Higgins, that's just what our companies have done.

For 29 years now we've done business on the neighbor-to-neighbor basis of people helping each other. Over these years our companies have grown steadily—from a mere handful of Ohio farmers in 1926 to more than two million policyholders today in 13 states.

But during all this time there hasn't been any change in our original idea of people working together to help each other. There hasn't been any change in the personal kind of service that has made Farm Bureau different from other insurance companies.

And there won't be any change under our new name, Nationwide Insurance. You have my personal guarantee on that.

So why change our name? Well, a lot of people like our way of doing things. People in states all the way to the Pacific Coast. Especially policyholders who have moved away and want to keep their insurance with us.

Naturally, we welcome these people, because the more of us there are, the lower the cost of providing protection for us all.

But in some states outside our present 13-state operating area there are already "Farm Bureau" companies. So before we could take these people in those other states into partnership with us, we had to have a new name.

But don't you worry, Mary Higgins. We'll never disappoint you or people like you who have been with us from earlier days. Your policies will continue to guarantee you the same protection as before. Charlie Hackett will still be on hand to advise you on your insurance problems and help you if you have a claim.

The big difference is one you can be proud of. From now on you'll have a stake in a business which will be Nationwide in name, just as for years we've been nationwide in our claims service. And through your local Policyholder Advisory Committee you'll be able to have a say in the affairs of an organization that eventually will be nationwide in sales service.

Sincerely,
Murray D. Lincoln
President, Nationwide Insurance

P.S. Perhaps you have friends and neighbors who would like to join our organization. Tell them about us. Then suggest they get in touch with Charlie Hackett or any Nationwide representative. They'll find a friendly welcome awaiting them!

W. Va. Teachers Demand Action About Salaries

Letter Suggests Closing Schools

ROMNEY — Officers of the Hampshire County branch of West Virginia Educators Association have received a letter, sent out to all county organizations by the Marshall County branch, stating: "If the West Virginia Legislature of January, 1956, does not provide a salary increase for teachers in the state that chapter recommends that West Virginia teachers close the schools until action is taken."

A recent questionnaire mailed to counties in West Virginia by WVEA reveals that in 52 counties of the 55, 1114 teachers were lost by graduation, resignation and retirement at the closing of the 1953-54 term.

The figure, broken down, reveals 339 went to teach in another state; 195 went to teach in another county; 85 took employment in business or industry, 54 went to school; 156 were married; 17 entered the armed forces, 84 were on maternity leave, 42 retired and there were 142 miscellaneous cases.

At the opening of that school term, there were 137 elementary openings and 81 high school vacancies.

To date, 1017 persons using emergency certificates have been employed in the state.

In May, 1955, 12 colleges and West Virginia University reported a total of 667 teacher training graduates with 525 being residents of West Virginia.

Of that number 22 per cent have been employed in West Virginia with 21 per cent stating they would seek West Virginia employment.

Nine per cent indicated they would seek employment in other states and 20 per cent do not plan to teach.

Of out-of-state students of education attending West Virginia schools, only one per cent indicated they would seek employment in West Virginia.

Now It's Sarah To The Rescue

A radio-radar combination so small it can be pinned to a lifejacket, for rescue purposes, is announced by Britain's Royal Air Force. It's given the name SARAH—search and rescue and homing.

The little transmitter sends out signals automatically when a toggle is pulled "and will guide rescuers to within 100 yards of the downed airman."

Details are scanty and it is difficult for a layman to comprehend just how this thing works. It has more of the appearance of a radio than a radar transmitter, and it "can also be used for radiotelephone conversations." But whether a rescue plane homes to the man on a radio signal or a radar pip, the main idea is that the device seems more effective than the little one-cell red light issued to U. S. fighting men aboard ship in World War II to be pinned to their lifejackets.

About the only usefulness of those lights was to aid a vessel at the scene of the sinking in rescuing those cast into the ocean.

Another piece of gear used in that war was the little umbrella-like spread of wire mesh that a man in a rubber boat could rig up as a reflector for radar signals. A search plane with a radar transmitter and scope could get a tiny return signal showing the range and bearing of the man afloat. Improvements could be expected after 10 years of serious study of sea rescue techniques, and it is obvious that they have been made.

The Cost Of Elections

Whenever the subject of bought elections is mentioned, the reply seems to be a shrug of the shoulders. The assumption is that there will always be dishonest men and that no system can be developed which will prevent individuals from passing money to candidates for public office under the table.

It is no secret in New York, although it probably cannot be proved without the power of subpoena, that so-called minority groups do support favored candidates by cash contributions of which no record is kept by the giver or the recipient. Some of this money is collected from reputable people in New York, men who would blush and be chagrined that anyone knows a few of the details, amounts, and to whom the money was passed. It is all so mysterious, like little boys smoking their first cigaret behind a barn door. These people have been led to believe that the collector, himself a man of considerable wealth, has so mastered the art of secrecy that his very existence is deniable. The assumption is by this means a group of liberals will be in Congress to protect the imagined interests of this group. Men feel important when they do such things.

There is no use pillorying these stupid persons who one day will undoubtedly be called by some congressional committee investigating campaign costs. They give to Republicans and Democrats, to the National Committee for an Effective Congress, to anybody that says he hates Hitler, the dead Nazi, whose ghost rides Park Avenue in New York, particularly in the Waldorf-Astoria where these violations of the law are plotted and planned.

If such a man as Frank Costello passes money under the table to a candidate for public office, the recipient would be smeared for life as an associate of gangsters, but when a manufacturer or a merchandiser does the same thing, it is only a gentlemanly act indiscreetly accomplished. Yet there is not a man who gives this kind of money to a candidate or his representative who does not know, at the time of the commission of the deed, that he is violating the law. It is to be assumed that he violates the law for good and sufficient reason, which satisfies his conscience and puts up his ego, and not only to help along a deserving aspirant for public office.

The entire question of elections ought to be studied by some body outside the Congress with the power of subpoena. Without the power of subpoena, no study can be competent or complete. It would be interesting to see how many so-called celebrities would be advised by learned counsel to plead the "Fifth Amendment" were they called to testify.

The American national election grows increasingly important as it is ridiculed not only by the Communists but by many intellectuals who feel that in many respects the chosen representatives of the people are inferior to the experts who might be selected from the universities and out of the civil service. We rarely hear the phrase, "representative government," which is what ours is. Westbrook Pegler recently referred derisively to the type of person who is elected to the British House of Commons, but no matter how the composition of that parliamentary body is analyzed, it does represent every element in the British population. It does not attempt to professionalize representation by insisting that there can be a conflict of interests. A brewer remains a brewer and speaks as one.

That is the basic assumption with regard to our own Congress. If Emanuel Celler is not to the liking of some Southerners, he nevertheless is as representative of Brooklyn as the Dodgers. That is what the institution is—representative.

Congress needs to develop greater stature than it has had since Franklin D. Roosevelt became President. Roosevelt overwhelmed and reduced the Congress. Many youngsters in this generation assume that the President is superior to the Congress; that he possesses some authority of leadership and that Congress is bound to follow his lead. The separation of powers is important for the maintenance of our free society. Only if men of independence and stature are elected to Congress will it be possible to restore the authority of that body and justify the elective processes of our country. The bought election is a menace to free institutions and professionalization what should be representative.

The Latchstring Is Always Out

The Question: Can The British Keep Their Cake?

LONDON

By Stewart Alsop

Since the war the British have developed a habit, by now almost as ingrained as tea or fish and chips, of having an economic crisis every odd year. They are having one now. Its outcome will determine whether a nation—especially a nation like Britain, which is absolutely dependent on exports—can have its cake and eat it too.

Ever since the coronation of Queen Elizabeth II, the British have been having their cake and eating it—and very good it has tasted too, thank you. There is no unemployment here at all. On the contrary, jobs are going begging, in mines, in offices, and elsewhere. This in turn has given the labor unions an unchallengeable bargaining position and wages have gone up and up.

At the same time, business has been booming merrily, while the state has been spending immense sums, for defense and the social services. The result has, of course, been inflation of the pound; the real value of the pound has dropped about 30 per cent since the devaluation in 1949.

Denies It's A Crisis

In theory, all this should have led long since to the loss of Britain's competitive position in world markets, and to another great economic crisis. In fact, the current crisis is very weak tea indeed, at least for the present, compared to the tremendous, and world-shaking crisis of 1947, 1949 and 1951. Chancellor of the Exchequer R. A. Butler denies, indeed, that it is a crisis at all—it is only a difficulty which will soon be overcome. The most important outward and visible sign of the crisis or difficulty is the loss of something like $300,000,000 from the British gold and dollar reserves in the last nine months. At the same time, small sinister whispers of a second devaluation have begun to be heard and the pound has shown signs of weakening on the world market. The crisis or difficulty is absolutely invisible, of course, to the ordinary British worker, enjoying a second glass of beer in his pub, on the best wages he has ever had; or even to the stockbroker, mulling over future opportunities for profit over a gin and tonic in his club. But the crisis is very real to the responsible men in both parties, and they are worrying more than they care to admit.

Indeed, it began worrying the able chancellor of the exchequer as early as last February, when he sharply raised the bank interest rate. This was supposed to have the effect of reining in the current boom. Instead, the boom broke into an excited gallop. At the end of July, Butler tightened the reins further by clamping down sharply on consumer credit. It remains to be seen whether this will slow down the boom. What amazes the foreign visitor is the unanimity of opinion here about the economic problem. Butler is blamed by the Socialists not for clamping down, but for not clamping down hard enough or soon enough. It is remarkable, moreover, to hear left-wing Labor politicians echoing, in private, the equally private view of most Conservatives that the root of the trouble lies in overemployment. As long as jobs are going begging, there is no incentive for higher production; coal mines are left idle (Britain will soon stop all

Refrigerator Raids May Contribute To Obesity

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Deilen

Most physicians are convinced that the majority of obese individuals eat more than they say. The fleshy person may forget to mention the midnight raid on the refrigerator or the candy nibbled while visiting neighbor Jones.

A group of New York physicians studied the eating patterns of 25 stout persons who were having trouble losing weight. All but two were women, and they averaged 68 pounds overweight. Through a careful study, the physicians picked up an extra 800 daily calories that had not been uncovered in the previous routine interviews.

Eight hundred extra calories every day is nothing to sneeze at, when we consider that most reducing diets vary from 1,000 to 1,200 calories. But that was only part of the story. Because many of the overweights in this series could not sleep, they invariably found their way to the refrigerator for a snack.

In 20 out of the 25, the "snack" consisted of at least one-quarter of their daily caloric intake. The New York medics called this habit the night eating syndrome (eating at night, insomnia, and morning loss of appetite).

As part of the survey, the physicians questioned 38 graduate student nurses who were not bothered by a weight problem. These girls had access to food during their off hours, not only in the refrigerator but in other ways. Many took a sandwich and glass of milk before going to bed but none gorged themselves.

It is difficult to say how many corpulent men and women fall into this night eating pattern but those who do should not lose sight of the fact that extracurricular calories could make the difference between success and failure in reducing.

The syndrome may have a psychological basis. During the last 10 years many emotional factors have been uncovered to explain why some people overeat and become fat whereas others undereat and become skinny. In some instances, the origin goes back to childhood, when the unconscious wishes of a neurotic father or mother were followed.

The parent who is responsible for making the child fat may be thin or vice versa. Or both parents may be on the heavy side and do not realize how much pleasure their facial expression shows when their offspring asks for second helpings. In this way, the parents convey the impression that Junior is a chip (or a pound) off the old block.

A dining car incident is typical of the opposite tendency. An enormous mother sat down with her skinny 6-year-old daughter and 4-year-old son and ordered three full dinners. The mother cleaned her own plate in a flash and then forkful for forkful—stole 90 per cent of the daughter's meal.

Now and then mother or father may have the reason for wanting the child to be obese and unattractive. Tracing the cause is a job for the psychiatrist and sometimes the motive involves revenge because of the way mother was treated by her mother. Finding the answer may require 200

Try And Stop Me!

By Bennett Cerf

Pat McGinnis, president of the New York, New Haven, and Hartford Railroad, is on the job an average of over 10 hours a day, much of the time riding its trains to check details of their operation. He is often accompanied by his wife, who is credited with the "1955 look" now being applied to its new rolling stock—black, white, and vivid Chinese vermilion.

Recently, relates Clarence Dean, Mr. McGinnis was standing in one of the New Haven yards when one of the newly-painted box cars rolled by. A nearby workman, unaware of President Pat's identity, growled, "Pipe those colors! Looks like a circus train." Then McGinnis boomed, "It has to be—when I have clowns like you working for me."

Mike Connolly overheard this in Hollywood. "The divorce worked out perfectly. She got the kids and he got the maid."

Texas' Rep. Brady Gentry Is Most Modest In House, Directory Shows

By Tom McNamara

(Editor's Note—While Drew Pearson is on a brief vacation his column is being written by members of his staff.)

WASHINGTON—Despite tales of Texas braggadocio, the most modest man in Congress, judging by the brevity of his self-composed biography in the Congressional Directory, is Rep. Brady Gentry, Democrat, Texas. "Biggest advertiser in the House, by the same standard, is Virginia's shrinking violet, Rep. Joel Broyhill, who wrote a whopping 57 lines about himself. However, Sen. Strom Thurmond of South Carolina, with 60 lines, is the champion chest-beater in both houses. Broyhill incidentally, sponsored the first piece of music ever engrossed in a House bill, the official Frances Scott Key version of the Star-Spangled Banner. Four other lyrical versions, all differing slightly, have been written since Key composed the immortal lines on a British ship off Fort Mifflin. Favorite hobby of Rep. Leon Gavin of Pennsylvania is collecting Civil War relics. He uses a mine detector to search for rifles and other buried relics on Virginia farms near the battlefields of Bull Run and Manassas. One item in his huge collection is a belt buckle pierced by a bullet that evidently killed the wearer. Expectant fathers who pace hospital corridors have a real buddy in Rep. Pete Rodino of New Jersey. Rodino received a cablegram, "Baby born," from his folks while he was with the Army in Africa in 1942. He didn't learn until a month later that his first-born was a daughter, Margaret Ann. Sen. Irving Ives of

New York doesn't rely on filling-station attendants to keep his tires properly inflated. The New Yorker carries a tire gauge with him at all times, but he denies that the gauge is equipped to measure "air pressure" on the Senate floor. Yacht's on the "gold coast" of Long Island, where Rep. Stuyvesant Wainwright II lives, are said to be so plentiful that they are named "His" and "Hers." Wainwright doesn't own a yacht and had to charter one when he recently took his wife and kids up the Atlantic Coast for a visit with his colleague, Rep. Perkins Bass of New Hampshire. The bill for the six-day round trip came to $930. At this rate, Wainwright is figuring on building a yacht and going into the business himself if the voters retire him from Congress.

Band Leader Kearns
Music may have charms to soothe a savage beast, but GOP Rep. Carroll Kearns of Pennsylvania has learned that the concert doesn't always help in the rough game of politics. The hefty Pennsylvanian is the most accomplished musician in Congress. A doctor of music, he can direct an orchestra as capably as the best leaders in the land. He has demonstrated this on numerous occasions, when he can get away from legislative chores, as guest conductor of the Air Force Orchestra in "Voice of America" concerts from Iceland, Denmark, Austria and France.

The congressman-musician meantime has been doing a good job in Washington, leading the fight for public school construction and in other ways making himself useful to his constituency and the country.

Kearns recently was surprised to learn, in view of his record, that three opponents had suddenly popped up in his district, contesting him for renomination in the Pennsylvania GOP primary. Their chief campaign issue against Kearns is that he spends too much time on music and trying to establish a symphony center in Washington.

This may seem strange in a music-conscious state like Pennsylvania, famed for its Bethlehem Chorus, the University of Pennsylvania's school of music, and entrepreneur Fred Waring, President Eisenhower's bandmaster in the 1952 campaign.

However, Kearns has put his hat on the shelf, cancelled all his "Voice of America" commitments and is back home shaking hands in post offices and barbershops. A politician with musical inclinations, he is assuring the voters that he has "An Unfinished Symphony" in Congress.

Capital Cartwheel
Many thanks to Sam Ketchman, athletic director of the Ferris Institute, Big Rapids, Mich., for advising that we left out Rep. Gerald Ford, former football star at Michigan University, in a recent sports round-up of Congress. "I played against Ford and know that he was good," says Ketchman. Steve Feeley, a Rochester, N. Y., philosopher who is also an authority on the U. S. Capitol, reports that a flaw in the famous painting of Pocahontas, hanging in the Capitol since 1848, was first discovered this summer by an eight-year-old girl. She pointed out to a guide that an Indian in the picture had six toes. In case you are planning to sue somebody, Congress still hasn't established an official measurement standard for the yard or the pound. George Washington had no luck on this in his first message to Congress and none of his successors has bothered much about it.

Mailpouch reply to Roy Campbell of Allentown, Pa.: government efficiency expert Frank Petrie has written a number of documents on efficiency problems. Write him care of Civil Aeronautics Administration, Washington, D. C. The happiest man in Congress when former Democratic Sen. Jim Mead decided to accept a post representing New York State in Washington, when his job as a member of the Federal Trade Commission ends this month, was GOP Rep. John R. Pillion, Mead, a strong vote-getter in New York, was thinking about running against Pillion. Rep. Jim Fulton of Pennsylvania is the leading collector of Greek art and sculpture in Congress, while Sen. Ed Martin, another Pennsylvanian, is reputed to have the best private collection of Currier and Ives prints of our presidents.

Money In Real Estate

By Roger W. Babson

BARBON PARK, Mass.—Readers do not need to go to Colorado and hunt for gold or uranium. There is a surer way to make money in your own community. Let me explain how to do so.

New Shopping Centers

As readers know, my family is heavily interested in the 450 retail "dime stores" controlled by the United Stores Corporation, the stocks of which I like to recommend. In view thereof, I have been looking at new shopping centers this summer in connection with my vacation. These new developments have their usefulness due to "downtown" city parking difficulties. These shopping centers will continue to be patronized by people living in their neighborhoods.

Many people who are now driving some miles to reach a new shopping center may soon get tired of it. Too many accidents are happening on the way to and from the shopping center. But this is not all. Owing to the high rents and high wage scales of the new shopping center stores, they must charge more for their merchandise than do the downtown city stores. Besides, the stocks of the latter are larger. Therefore, no downtown merchant should sign up for a new shopping center too hastily.

My Interesting Discovery

In every city which I have visited there is pressure to expand the areas zoned for business. These local fights are a headache to the city officials. Those outside the areas are anxious for the "business zones" to be increased; but after getting into such a zone, these same people are selfishly fighting to keep others out.

As a result of this pressure, the price of residential property near a business zone gradually rises. It soon becomes so expensive that residential building thereon is retarded. This is bad for the city. A growing city needs active real estate developers, who should be encouraged. Some day this "fringe land" will be zoned for business. Therefore, it is now usually a good real estate speculation. In fact, readers will be interested in comparing already the "bid prices" for some of this fringe property with the city's assessment thereof. This shows what developers think of it. Let me add that such a comparison should be especially helpful to present property owners in preventing their land from being "stolen" from them by speculators who do keep posted.

How To Speculate
Instead of spending time reading the stock market or studying charts, I advise you to read your city's zoning laws and study its zoning map. If your building inspector cannot give you such a map, buy a small map of your city and copy thereon the different shaded areas from the big map which the official has on the wall of his office.

Watch the official advertisements in your daily newspapers of appeal board hearings on requests to change any zoning areas. Attend all hearings which are held by appeal or planning boards and note their recommendations. From these hearings and the action which the city fathers finally take, you can get a good idea of what real estate price changes will occur. Above all, read the reports of these hearings and the real estate news in your local newspaper, which can become a gold mine to you.

A Safe Forecast

The residential section of every city is growing fastest and best in some one direction. It may be east or west, north or south. Find out for a certainty in which direction the best houses of your city are being built. Then confine your speculations to this one direction. The shopping area is probably going out that way too. An exclusive industrial area is growing in another direction, and this offers some good speculations. But invest no money where the two or more groups are mixed.

I forecast that the "best buys" are at the fringe of the different zoning areas, where some residential property is likely to be turned into business property. Remember that business property sells the highest per square foot; residential property second; and industrial last. All of these areas usually sell for more than unzoned property. Land on the fringes of these zones increases in price more rapidly than "inside" locations. One more thought: Do not own too much land at any time. It is as important to sell and take profits as to "buy right."

Chisox Split With Boston, Stay In Race

By BOB HOOBING

BOSTON, Sept. 11 (AP)—Chicago remained on the fringe of the American League pennant picture today by defeating the Boston Red Sox 7-2 in the second game of their doubleheader to salvage a split.

Boston won the opener 6-2 on Frank Sullivan's five-hit victory—his 16th of the season—supported by Norm Zauchin's homer, double and single for three runs.

White Sox pitchers Connie Johnson and Dixie Howell were tagged for 11 hits by the Red Sox in the nightcap but were rough in the clutch. Boston left a total of 15 runners stranded, twice going down with the bases loaded.

Bob Kennedy hit a two-run double for the winners. Sammy White's two-run homer was the extent of Boston's offense.

The split was essential to Chicago but it seemed hardly possible they could achieve it the way the Red Sox began working on them in the second game.

Boston got two men on in the first inning but Jackie Jensen hit a routine fly and Zauchin looked at a third strike.

Zauchin fanned and White fouled out with the bases full in the third.

Jimmy Piersall fouled to the same spot and the same man—second baseman Nellie Fox—with the bases again jammed in the fifth.

By then the White Sox had taken charge.

Susce Is Loser

George Susce, Boston's starter and loser who had given only one hit in the first four frames, began the fifth by walking Sherm Lollar.

Jim Bredeweser sacrificed him along and he went to third on Jim Busby's single to left. Johnson—the winner with a 7-3 record—doubled for one run, Minnie Minoso hit a sacrifice fly for another and Fox singled made it 3-0.

With Mel Parnell on the mound for the losers in the seventh inning, Kennedy tagged a two-run double after Fox walked and George Kell singled. Bredeweser's single brought in Kell with the Chicago wrap-up run.

After Piersall singled, Johnson was yanked in favor of Howell. Pinch hitter Faye Thronberry singled but Billy Goodman ended the rally with a forceout.

Zauchin's two-run double in the first inning put the Sox in front 3-0 and gave Sullivan the edge he needed. The rookie first baseman's 27th home run and second in two days came with the issue no longer in doubt. He tagged it off Harry Byrd, fourth White Sox hurler, with two out in the seventh.

Boston snapped a three-game losing streak in the first game.

Wynn, who turned back the Yankees, who had faced him three times he faced them, was the Cleveland starter and loser. The big right-hander allowed six hits in the seven innings he worked and was tagged for all the runs to drop his third straight to the Yankees. His overall record is now 16-10.

Bauer, Berra and Collins, the latter an Indian killer from way back, were the hitting stars for the Yankees. Bauer cracked a single, double and triple and scored twice. Berra, showing no effects of a heavy cold and stomach disorder, drove in three runs with a single and sacrifice fly. Collins got only one hit, but it was his 12th home run, fifth against Cleveland and fourth against Early Wynn.

Collins got only one hit, but it was his 12th home run, fifth against Cleveland and fourth against Early Wynn.

Yankees Even Score

Wynn, who turned back the Yankees, who had faced him three times he faced them, was the Cleveland starter and loser. The big right-hander allowed six hits in the seven innings he worked and was tagged for all the runs to drop his third straight to the Yankees. His overall record is now 16-10.

Grantsville And Mt. Savage Advance To Playoff Finals

Wellsburg Bows To Sluggers, 6-1; Old G's Defeat Zihlman, 5-3

Grantsville's Sluggers and the Mt. Savage Old Germans qualified for the final playoffs in the Pen-Mar Baseball League by sweeping their series with Wellsburg and Zihlman in two straight games yesterday.

A three-run rally in the fifth inning enabled Grantsville's pennant-winning aggregation to eliminate Wellsburg at the latter place by the score of 6-1.

Bobby Blank turned in his best performance of the season, tossing a two-hitter to give Mt. Savage a 5-3 decision over Zihlman at Mt. Savage.

Perry Strikes Out 13

Junie Perry, Grantsville southpaw, limited Wellsburg to four hits, including a homer by O'Baker in the sixth inning, and fired the third strike past 13 batsmen in Grantsville's triumph.

The Sluggers nipped Bobby Dawson for 13 hits, three of which were credited to Niles Harper while Bill See smacked a 6th inning homer and single, and Jack Mort and Joe Wenger also garnered two hits each. Dawson fanned five.

O'Baker garnered two of the four hits given up by Perry. The others were singles credited to Pete Deremer and Jimmy Morgan.

Grantsville had won the opener of the best-of-three series by the score of 4-3.

At Mt. Savage, Bobby Blank retired the last 13 batsmen in order and struck out seven of them in twirling the Old Germans to victory. He whiffed a total of ten and issued three bases on balls.

Triples Break Tie

With the score knotted at 1-1, Mt. Savage put the game on ice in the third inning by registering three runs. Ocie Raines and Frank Urbas hit successive triples to break the tie and the latter came home on a wild pitch by Ronnie Rice. Clyde Broadwater and Donnie Blank walked but Joe Scarpelli smacked into a double play, ending the inning.

In the first inning, Ronnie Carter got a life on an error, advanced to second on Cassidy's sacrifice, stole third and scored on a wild pitch. Mt. Savage's final tally came in the eighth when Raines singled, pilfered second, took third on a passed ball and scampered home on Broadwater's sacrifice fly.

Rice gave up six hits, fanned eight and issued four walks.

Harris Blasts Homer

Rickey Harris homered for Zihlman in the first inning. In the fifth, Blank walked two and both runners scored on a triple by Denry Shuck. Zihlman failed to get a runner on base thereafter.

Mt. Savage won the first game of the series from Zihlman by the score of 17-6.

The final playoff series between Mt. Savage and Grantsville is expected to get under way Sunday, September 18. Final arrangements will be completed this week. The scores:

Keyser Defeats Panthers, 27-0

Clarkmen To Host
Parsons On Friday

Keyser High School's football team defeated Charles Town for the fourth successive year on Saturday, launching its 1955 ten-game schedule with a 27-0 triumph over Coach Dick Harrison's Jefferson countyans at Keyser.

Coach Fred "Tack" Clark's eleven packed its scoring punch into the first three periods when touchdowns were scored by Ed Parish, Rick Kephart, Jimmy Webb and Earl Studenwalt. Rick Kephart kicked three extra points.

A 25-yard pass play, Scott Ward to Parish netted the first KHS score. Kephart smashed over from the eight for the second and Webb sprinted 58 yards for the third. Studenwalt made the final six-pointer, carrying over from the two.

KHS piled up 10 first downs to Charles Town's five and gained 170 yards rushing and 66 yards on two passes. The Panthers completed three of six passes for 16 yards and gained 88 net yards overland.

Keyser plays host to the Parsons Panthers on 1:30 o'clock Friday.

Other weekend football results included:

Elkins 35, Belington 6; Kingwood 7, Phillip 6; St. Francis, Morgantown 13, Terra Alta 6.

Cards Nose Out Pittsburgh, 6-5

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 11 (AP)—Bill Sarni's pinch double drove in the tie-breaking run and Alex Grammas followed with a winning single in the eighth inning today to lift the St. Louis Cardinals to a 6-5 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Nelson Burbrink started the winning rally off Dick Littlefield with a double and rode home on Sarni's blow to the right field wall. Grammas' safety was his third of the game.

Larry Jackson got credit for the win in relief of Ben Flowers, who made his first start for the Cards. He was purchased from the Detroit system last week.

Pittsburgh collected 12 hits, paced by Eddie O'Brien with three singles and two runs batted in.

Bill Virdon blasted a bases-empty homer for St. Louis in the second, his 17th, and Ken Boyer hit his 18th of the year in the third with one man on base.

Win CCC Golf Match

Dr. Paul Castelle and his father, Capt. R. A. Clark defeated Dr. Albert Eskin and his son, George, in a father-and-son golf match yesterday at the Cumberland Country Club, 1 up on the 18th hole.

The match was highlighted by the play of George Eskin who made four birdies, rimmed the cup on three more and drove the third green of 320 yards.

Clark Sets 2nd
Record Of Year
At State Track

Willie Clark, 34-year-old jockey of Mt. Holly, N. J., who established an all-time record at the Cumberland Fair Association's meeting in June by piloting 26 winners, set another record last week when he rode his 18th winner at Timonium's 10-day session.

The old Timonium standard of 17 was set last year by apprentice Roger Conlon.

Clark's performance at Fairgo bettered the previous mark of 22 established by Carson Kirk.

Willie has set the pace at three of Maryland's minor ovals this year. He topped the riders at Hagerstown's recent meeting with 11 winners.

A total of 96,361 persons attended the Timonium races, 1,406 over last year.

Wagering totaled $4,111,552, better than last year's $3,909,804 but still about $500,000 off the record.

John Klippstein Tosses 1-Hitter Against Dodgers

Cincinnati Sweeps
Twin Bill, 9-0, 5-3

CINCINNATI, Sept. 11 (AP)—John Klippstein, Cincinnati Redlegs right-hander with a 30-30 record, today shut out the Brooklyn Dodgers 9-0 on one hit—Peewee Reese's single with one out in the ninth—in the first game of a doubleheader.

The Reds captured the second game 5-3 to give the Cincinnatians more victories over the National League Champions than any other team in the circuit.

Klippstein picked up his eighth triumph against nine defeats. At one time his record stood at 1-6.

He said after the game he knew he had a no-hitter going from the fourth inning on.

"I threw mostly fast balls and sliders," the happy right-hander said. He took Reese's single philosophically.

The new National League champions have been whitewashed only four times this season. The Dodgers have whipped the Reds 12 times but the 10 setbacks are the most they have suffered from one team.

A crowd of 27,425 witnessed the doubleheader.

Martinez Is Victor

PATERSON, N. J., Sept. 11 (AP)—Vince Martinez, 150½, Paterson, fourth ranking welterweight, outpointed Bob Provizzi, 158, Freehold, Pa., in a 10-round feature bout at Hinchliffe Stadium Saturday night.

It was Martinez' 42nd win in 45 bouts.

Some 16 right-of-way deeds for land along Weir's Avenue in LaVale and Knob Road, which connects Bedford Road and Valley Road, were filed for record Friday in the office of Joseph E. Boden, clerk of Allegany County Circuit Court.

Six of the deeds were on Weir's Avenue and the other 10 on Knob Road. The land was needed to the county commissioners as a preliminary step that may lead to improvements to the roads.

Trabert Tops Ken Rosewall To Bag Title

Doris Hart Retains
National Net Crown

FOREST HILLS, N.Y., Sept. 11 (AP)—Tony Trabert completed a tennis "triple slam" with a crushing 9-7, 6-3, 6-3 victory over Australia's Ken Rosewall for the National Championship today, then began pondering a $75,000 offer to turn pro.

In adding the U.S. title to his Wimbledon and French crowns, the 25-year-old Cincinnati scored a tournament sweep unparalleled by an amateur since Don Budge captured the three, plus the Australian, back in 1938.

Rosewall, Trabert's almost helpless victim today, is holder of the Australian championship.

Doris Hart of Coral Gables, Fla., successfully defended her women's championship with a 6-4, 6-2 decision over Pat Ward, a five-foot, eight, 145-pound British girl who became the first representative of her country in 24 years to gain the American final.

In smashing Rosewall's brilliant backcourt marksmanship with tremendous power, Trabert restored for America and himself some of the tennis prestige lost in Australia's recent 5-0 Davis Cup rout.

On successive days, his rocket service and slashing net game cut down both of Australia's young Davis Cup aces. In the semi-finals yesterday Trabert defeated Lewis Hoad, his conqueror in the Davis Cup, 6-4, 6-2, 6-1.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 11 (INS)—The actress Don Hartman would like to see play Gertrude Lawrence in "Mrs. A." is Deborah Kerr. In fact, he already has discussed with Deborah the possibility of her coming back to Paramount for Richard Aldrich's biography of his actress wife.

They're just crazy about Debbie on the Paramount lot where she's been working on "The Proud and the Profane," but then everybody is crazy about Debbie, period.

There's no truth to the rumor that the illness of Dorothy Towne Webb is keeping Jack from going to Europe, and this comes straight from Webb, himself.

Jack says, "It's true that Dorothy and I are not going to Europe now, I have 35 more 'Dragonet' pictures to make, and I'm going to get to work on them right away." And, laughed Jack, "we're building a new building on the Republic lot, and you know me—I want to be there when the first shovel of ground is dug."

Farm Agent Gives Report

A report on the farming season in Allegany County has been released by Joseph M. Steger, county farm agent.

Steger said the season was generally good. The berry crop was excellent, especially raspberries and strawberries, he said. The peach crop was good as were prices. The harvest of apples has been started and prices are steady.

Extra cuttings of hay such as alfalfa and clover were general in the county with the yield being good. Grains such as wheat, barley and oats were in good supply with the latter two giving fine yields.

Making of silage from corn is underway and the damage to this crop in river bottom lands was not as bad as at first feared, Steger said. The heavy rains and floodwaters did not do as much damage as had been anticipated.

Recent rains have had a beneficial effect on pastures and the fields are reported in normal condition. The dry weather earlier in the summer had been drying up pastures, Steger stated.

"Dairy prices have been steady, but hog prices are down at present, he said. The price of eggs is going up and the broiler market is good."

Farmers are getting ready for fall seeding of fields and plowing is underway. More than the usual number of farmers are having their soil analyzed so they can determine the need of lime and fertilizers, Steger pointed out.

It has been a bad year for insects and bugs with tomatoes being badly damaged, Steger said. Irregular ripening was reported by farmers. String beans were better off and the crop was good. Japanese beetles were worse this year than last and grape arborers and trees and shrubbery were hit by these insects rather badly, Steger said.

A teenager can establish a beautiful leg-line for herself—that counts all the rest of her life.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

Her legs are the despair of many a girl in her early teens. How can she ever turn into the beauty she longs to be—if her legs are shapeless, either too thin or too childishly plump?

The right exercise shapes up a beautiful leg, and correct footwear accomplishes wonders, too. For thin legs, exercise must be leisurely, but for those which need reducing and redistribution of curves, the more rapid the pace, the better.

A graceful legline develops from a stick-like one best when firm, flat-heeled shoes are worn. Better than exercise indoors is a good walk two miles a day, which benefits the skin, too, and is fun at the same time. Or, an hour's ride on a bicycle. But remember two things—that taking time to see the sights and enjoying them hastens rather than slows down the results hoped for—and that occasional workouts do very little good. It's the daily stint that counts.

Stand tall to look beautiful—and to look young.

Do you stand as tall as you can? You should, whether or not you're model tall. There's a little, young look to standing tall at any age. Then, too, the stretching tall prevents a rigid settling down into your spine that so greatly hastens looking old.

Exercises can teach your body to extend itself naturally, so that standing tall is easy. The first one you should adopt loosens tight spots in your spinal column. Begin it by standing on tiptoe with your feet together. Raise both arms over your head. Now, start to stretch, from the base of your spine upward. Pull your waist out of your hips, your neck out of your shoulders, your hands out of your wrists. Reach for the ceiling.

Then, walk slowly around the room, stretching every step of the way, for a count of ten. Finally, and very slowly, return your arms and feet to a normal position, but don't lose the stretch in your spine.

Medium heels are advisable at least part of the time for shapeless plump legs, as long as they are broad-based and on shoes that are suitably styled for teenagers. The slightly different pull they put on the leg muscles has a reforming effect. Posture must be checked also, and a stance with weight thrown back on the heels and tightly locked knees—so commonly accompanying flabby legs—must be corrected. A general weight loss for the overweight is bound to help, and may be positively essential. Walking is again the corrective measure for brisk walking and the right kind. As muscles form, the calves take shape and extra fat cushions dissolve.

HOW MUCH SHOULD YOU WEIGH? A new, lightning calculator that tells you how to compute your own individual ideal weight. Write to Secrets of Charm in care of this newspaper, enclosing the (in coins) and a self-addressed, stamped envelope. Ask for "How Much Should You Weigh?"

Repeat at various times during the day to total ten times. A second excellent exercise works toward a swan-like neck and stretches your legs at the same time. Lie on your back on the floor. Keep one leg straight and bend the other so the knee touches your chest. Clasp your hands lightly around the bent knee, raise your head and stretch it toward the knee. Keep your shoulders flat on the floor, remember, and at the same time, stretch the leg that's on the floor. Hold for a count of five, then repeat with the other leg. Start with five times for each and increase to ten times.

YOUR POSTURE—Achieve grace of the highest degree—make yours the posture ideal—improve stance, figure, health and the appearance of your clothes. Read the informative, easy-to-follow booklet—"YOUR POSTURE". For a copy, write to Secrets of Charm in care of this paper, enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope and 10c in coin. Tomorrow—Is a first glance at you intriguing? (Copyright, 1955, John F. Dille Co.)

Friends Aware To Buy Auto

The Friends Aware of Handicapped Children at a recent meeting decided to appeal to interested groups in the unit's project to purchase a station wagon.

The vehicle will be used to transport the members of the class of severely mentally retarded children to LaVale School. This course starts Monday, September 19, with Mrs. Ruth Patterson of Frostburg as teacher and Mrs. Marion Wilson of this city as her assistant.

The Friends Aware will assure full responsibility for furnishing a driver, cost of operation and maintenance, license tags and insurance.

In announcing the establishment of the class for these children at LaVale School, the Allegany County Board of Education set the transportation responsibility on the parents.

Friends Aware is an organization of parents and friends of mentally retarded and orthopedic handicapped children.

A temporary plan for transportation will be put into effect by Mrs. Branch Schilling and Mrs. Bernard Coulehan each hauling one mother and four children to and from LaVale School daily. Officers of the organization report there is needed a volunteer to transport an adult and four children from the South End area.

15 Are Injured In Accidents Over Weekend

Four Teen-Agers In Pa. Mishap

Fifteen local and area residents were injured in a series of accidents which occurred over the past weekend.

Yesterday about 1 a. m. four teen-age youths were hospitalized after the car in which they were riding went out of control, slid about 65 yards and came to a stop upside down.

Pennsylvania State Police reported that the driver of the car, Ned Junior Allison, 17, of RD 2, Bedford, faces a charge of reckless driving.

Investigating officer is Sgt. Grant Shannon, who is in charge of the Bedford sub-station. Police said Allison reported that he fell asleep at the wheel.

The driver, who was taken to the Bedford Hospital, sustained a lacerated head and contusions. Also injured and taken to Windber Hospital were Ronald Ickes, 16, Imbler RD, contusion of legs; Norman Davis, 18, Imbler RD, fractured arm; and Lowell Weyant, 18, also of Imbler RD, laceration of the scalp.

The mishap occurred about three miles east of Pleasantville on Legislative Route 05074.

3 Hurt In Crash

In another accident in nearby Pennsylvania, three persons were injured in a two-vehicle crash about six miles north of Everett.

Police, who said the mishap occurred at 3:10 p. m. Saturday, reported a truck driven by Fred Norton, 43, of Hopewell, was struck on the left rear by Charles E. Black, 38, of New Enterprise.

Norton was making a left turn when the other driver struck the truck. Black, according to Officer Adam Kachurick, of Bedford, was arrested and faces a motor violation charge.

Black sustained a laceration of his head. Two passengers in the Norton truck were taken to Roaring Springs for treatment.

Audrey Lee Norton, 14, sustained body bruises, while Virginia Norton 11, suffered body bruises and a laceration of her head.

In other accidents Howard E. "Hick" Blackburn, 61, of 101 Main Street, Westernport, was seriously injured early Saturday afternoon when his car apparently went out of control about two miles south of Westernport on the McCool Road.

Trooper Milton Hart, who is investigating, said Blackburn was driving towards McCool when he apparently lost control of his vehicle, ran off the right side of the road, swerved back across the highway and crashed into an embankment before turning over. The car was demolished.

In Fair Condition

Blackburn was admitted to Potomac Valley Hospital, Keyser, where attaches said he suffered a fractured right shoulder, head and chest injuries and a concussion. He was reported in fair condition late last night.

A veteran of World War I, Blackburn is a former commander of Victory Post 155, American Legion of Westernport.

Approximately 14 hours after Misses Irma and Ruth Shipley, of Artemas, were admitted to Sacred Heart for treatment of injuries suffered in a highway accident, their father, Stanley Shipley, 45, was admitted for X-rays and observation of possible neck and head injuries suffered when he fell from the porch of their home.

The Shipley sisters were passengers in a car operated by Guy Robinson, also of Artemas, when it crashed on Route 126. Irma, 17, sustained lacerations of the face and chin, while Ruth, 20, was treated for lacerations of the tongue, forehead and arm. The three members of the family were reported in "good" condition by attaches.

Family "Good"

Three other highway accident victims were admitted early Saturday to Sacred Heart. They were Howard Ware, 23, his wife, Paula Ware, 22, and Mrs. Allen Smith, 34, a cousin, all of the Lake Gordon section. None was seriously injured and all are reported in "good" condition.

Trooper Robert Wolford, who is investigating, said Ware was driving on Route 220 when his vehicle swerved off the highway and struck several mail boxes and a telephone pole.

In another accident which occurred early Saturday on Route 220, across the Pennsylvania line, Glen E. Nave, of RD 3, Bedford, was admitted to Bedford County Memorial Hospital in Bedford for X-rays and observation.

Investigating authorities said a tractor-trailer, operated by Richard L. Zembower, also of RD 3, Bedford, pulled onto the highway into the path of Nave's vehicle. Zembower, who was unharmed, in the resulting collision, was charged with failing to give the right-of-way to an oncoming vehicle.

District Youth To Rally Today

Evangelical United Brethren Church young people of the Keyser District will hold an area rally at 7:30 p. m. today in the Potomac Park Church.

Rev. Bruce Price, pastor of Park Place Methodist Church, will be guest speaker. A period of recreation and a wienner roast will follow the devotional period.

Churches in Cumberland, Keyser, Westernport, Antioch and Bayard are included in the district.

Late Apple Blossoms

Donna Jean Wolf wears a puzzled smile as she inspects a few of the blossoms on an apple tree at the home of Burney B. Sherman, Wiley Ford, W. Va. The tree broke into full bloom last week, several months out of season, as apple-picking time rolled around.

Sooty Blotch Strikes Apples

Apple growers of the area are warned by Dr. L. O. Weaver, University of Maryland extension plant pathologist, to examine their orchards for sooty blotch of apples which may develop before harvest.

Rains and cloudy days in August caused poor drying conditions within the trees. Apples on the inner branches and those next to the ground will be the first to show the dark, sooty blotch spots on the surface of the fruit.

The name sooty blotch adequately describes the appearance of this trouble. The disease appears as pale, irregular, cobwebby growth which later turns sooty brown or black. It is most noticeable on Grimes, Golden Delicious and Jonathan, although all varieties will become affected. Early stages of sooty blotch were found on Golden Delicious before Labor Day.

The Maryland spray calendar recommends use of zineb (Dithane Z-78, Parzate) 2-100 or captan 2-100 to prevent sooty blotch. Where fruit rots have been a problem, growers may use zineb, one pound, plus one pound of captan in 100 gallons of water. Sprays should be applied only to those varieties that will be harvested late.

Attempt To Oust Head Of Demo Committee Fails

Vice Chairman To Be Named

OCEAN CITY, Md., Sept. 11 (AP)—The appointment of a member of the Young Democrats of Maryland to a vice chairmanship on the Democratic State Central Committee was in the works today after an unsuccessful attempt to oust T. Barton Harrington as chairman of the committee.

A resolution calling upon Harrington to resign was voted down yesterday at the concluding session of the annual meeting of the young group of party leaders.

However, a spokesman for Harrington told delegates to the convention he had been authorized to announce that the appointment would be made soon.

The resolution, introduced by Del. Lloyd L. Simpkins (D-Somerset), criticized Harrington on three main points: Lack of aggressiveness, failure to call the central committee into session more frequently and failure to name a Young Democrat vice chairman of the committee as it was charged, he had promised.

Resolution Rejected

After rejecting the resolution by a margin of about 2-1, the convention voted to reconsider this vote and send the critical document back to the resolutions committee for re-drafting. Some opponents said they concurred with some of the criticisms but felt the wording, especially a clause demanding Harrington's resignation, was too strong.

Then the resolution remained in committee.

Another which died in committee after earlier receiving unanimous approval of the resolutions group would have denied the support of the young party leaders to any political candidate who had participated in the Democrats-for-Eisenhower movement of 1952.

Like the Harrington resolution, this stemmed from differences between some of the Young Democrats and older elements of the party. Clarence W. Miles, Baltimore Orioles president who has said he is considering a bid for Democratic nomination to the U.S. Senate next year, was a leader in Democrats-for-Eisenhower activities.

Harrington contended the Simpkins resolution was inspired by State Comptroller J. Millard Tawes, George P. Mahoney and J. Newton Brewer, Montgomery County real estate man who was being touted by some Young Democrats to replace Harrington.

Harrington Raps Mahoney

"I am glad that the Young Democrats defeated by a decisive majority the resolution sponsored by the Mahoney-Tawes-Brewer combine, which, if passed, would have again created discord within the Democratic party," said Harrington.

Mahoney said the charge was "ridiculous."

"I wouldn't think of mixing into the affairs of the Young Democrats," he added.

The forces of Mayor Thomas D'Alesandro of Baltimore were active in the successful fight against the resolution.

Some observers read significance into the fact that Harrington, D'Alesandro and Miles spent much of their stay in Ocean City together, while Tawes was frequently in the company of Mahoney, whose friends believe he will soon announce as a candidate for the senate nomination next year.

They suggested this might be the factional lineup in the Democratic primaries for senator in 1956 and for governor in 1958. Tawes has made no bones about wanting the gubernatorial nomination, and D'Alesandro associates say the mayor is considering making the same run.

Today's Sermonette

Ye shall be witnesses unto me. Acts 1:8.

Today's sermonette is a digest of the sermon preached yesterday by Rev. S. R. Neel, pastor of Mt. Pleasant Methodist Circuit. The sermon digests are being prepared through the cooperation of the Cumberland Ministerial Association.

Witnesses For Christ

By REV. S. R. NEEL

Let us paraphrase that text a bit: Ye shall be witnesses unto Christ throughout all generations; no age shall be without His faithful witnesses.

The Church Incorporated

Luke in Acts 1:8 answers the question about Christ the anointed and the Son of David: Lord, wilt thou at this time restore the kingdom to David? "It is not for you to know the times which the Father has kept as His own secret."

But the church was incorporated out of the early witnesses for Christ and his kingdom. The Church became the agent of the kingdom of God on earth.

Paul speaks of these incorporated witnesses as the Body of Christ. This body was to take the place of the body that was crucified upon the Cross. Incorporated really means incarnated-incarnated as flesh, and hands, and feet, and tongues, to witness and to minister for our Lord.

Through Luke in Acts 1:8, the Christ says to the church, and to its individual members: You are my witnesses. Speak and minister in my name. I have no tongue with which to speak words of truth, except your tongues. I have no hands to perform deeds of mercy, except your hands. I have no feet upon which I may go on errands of love, except your feet.

Ye Are My Witnesses

Catch the meaning of the text with a few more wholesome variations:

1. You are my comforted witnesses. Jesus said, "In the world ye shall have tribulation, but I will not disturb you. I have overcome the world." Again He says, in John 14, "Let not your hearts be troubled, greater works than mine shall ye do" as the routine of the common, yet uncommon, days.

2. You are my sustained witnesses. Trials and afflictions and persecutions await you, but "the faithful unto death and I will give you the Crown of Life."

3. Ye are my effective witnesses. "Ye shall have power, or dynamite, after that the Holy Spirit is come upon you" (Acts 1:8).

Shame on us, brothers, that we have ever been ashamed to witness for our Christ.

"Ashamed of Jesus, yes I may, when I've no sins to 'ipe away.' Till then, nor is my boasting vain; till then I boast a Savior slain. And O may this my portion be, that Savior not ashamed of me."
